By Law Office of Michael S. Discioarro

Dated: Jan 17, 2010

Manhattan DWI DUI defense lawyer, Michael Discioarro has DWI case with .186 BAC dismissed.

Manhattan DWI DUI defense lawyer, Michael S. Discioarro began representing, Alwyn F. over a year ago, The defendant was accused of running a red light and DWI with a blood alcohol content of .186. Mr. Discioarro states that the prosecution did not follow proper procedures in prosecuting the case. "They did not give me proper notice of the progress of the case." he said. Ultimately, the prosecution ran out of time and was forced to concede they could not go forward.

Mr. Discioarro states that many DWI cases can be challenged on the police and prosecutor not following the proper procedures for the arrest. "With the political pressure to prosecute as many people as possible for DWI, police and prosecutors are cutting constitutional corners." He states that basic constitutional rights are being ignored by the police and prosecutors in order to increase the amount of DWI convictions. "I am glad we were able to protect our client's rights."
